Consumer Rights

Economics | Project work in CBSE 2026-27; not a regular year-end board chapter

30 original revision questions with answers: short-answer, competency, assertion-reason and long-answer practice. Set is based on the current syllabus and official question-paper style; it is not a prediction or an official CBSE paper.

Question 1

Name four consumer rights and explain why they matter.

Answer:

Consumers have rights to safety, information, choice, and redressal, among others. These protections help people make informed purchases and seek remedies for unfair treatment.

Question 2

What details should a consumer check on a packaged product?

Answer:

Check the price, quantity, ingredients, manufacture or expiry date, and required quality or safety marks. Clear information helps compare products and avoid unsafe or misleading purchases.

Question 3

What steps can a consumer take after receiving a defective product?

Answer:

Keep the bill, packaging, and evidence; contact the seller or company with a clear complaint; and use the relevant consumer grievance or redressal channel if the issue remains unresolved.

Question 4

What is the central idea or skill tested in Consumer Rights?

Answer:

The central focus is: Consumers have rights to safety, information, choice, and redressal, among others. This is the starting point for a strong answer from this chapter.

Question 5

Write two relevant points for a short answer based on Consumer Rights.

Answer:

First point: Consumers have rights to safety, information, choice, and redressal, among others. Second point: Check the price, quantity, ingredients, manufacture or expiry date, and required quality or safety marks. Link the two points clearly instead of listing them without explanation.

Question 6

How does the first key idea in Consumer Rights lead to an important result or conclusion?

Answer:

Begin with the key idea: Consumers have rights to safety, information, choice, and redressal, among others. Then connect it to the result: Check the price, quantity, ingredients, manufacture or expiry date, and required quality or safety marks.

Question 7

What evidence, calculation, incident or concept best supports the first main idea in Consumer Rights?

Answer:

Use this supporting detail: Consumers have rights to safety, information, choice, and redressal, among others. These protections help people make informed purchases and seek remedies for unfair treatment. The relevant detail should be stated before giving the final conclusion.

Question 8

Explain the importance of the second major idea in Consumer Rights.

Answer:

Check the price, quantity, ingredients, manufacture or expiry date, and required quality or safety marks. Clear information helps compare products and avoid unsafe or misleading purchases. Its importance lies in showing how the chapter develops the topic beyond a simple fact or definition.

Question 9

What common mistake should a student avoid while answering a question from Consumer Rights?

Answer:

Do not give only a conclusion. Explain the reasoning with a correct detail, such as: Keep the bill, packaging, and evidence; contact the seller or company with a clear complaint; and use the relevant consumer grievance or redressal channel if the issue remains unresolved.

Question 10

Compare the first and second important ideas in Consumer Rights.

Answer:

The first idea is: Consumers have rights to safety, information, choice, and redressal, among others. The second idea is: Check the price, quantity, ingredients, manufacture or expiry date, and required quality or safety marks. A complete comparison states both the difference and the connection between them.
