Outcomes of Democracy

Political Science | Board-examinable

30 original revision questions with answers: short-answer, competency, assertion-reason and long-answer practice. Set is based on the current syllabus and official question-paper style; it is not a prediction or an official CBSE paper.

Question 1

How should the outcomes of a democracy be assessed?

Answer:

Assess whether government is accountable and responsive, whether citizens enjoy equal rights and dignity, and whether conflicts are resolved peacefully. Democracy may not eliminate inequality, so outcomes need careful comparison.

Question 2

Why can a democratic government be slower than an authoritarian one but still preferable?

Answer:

Consultation and procedures can take time, but they allow public participation and checks on power. Decisions made with consent are more accountable and legitimate.

Question 3

Does democracy automatically remove economic inequality? Explain.

Answer:

No. Political equality does not guarantee equal income or opportunity. Democracies must use policies and public accountability to address poverty and concentration of wealth.

Question 4

What is the central idea or skill tested in Outcomes of Democracy?

Answer:

The central focus is: Assess whether government is accountable and responsive, whether citizens enjoy equal rights and dignity, and whether conflicts are resolved peacefully. This is the starting point for a strong answer from this chapter.

Question 5

Write two relevant points for a short answer based on Outcomes of Democracy.

Answer:

First point: Assess whether government is accountable and responsive, whether citizens enjoy equal rights and dignity, and whether conflicts are resolved peacefully. Second point: Consultation and procedures can take time, but they allow public participation and checks on power. Link the two points clearly instead of listing them without explanation.
